

H2 Logic A/S nominated for $100.000 Cleantech 2007 award from Danish venture company, Vaekstfonden

5. November 2007, Herning

H2 Logic A/S has been nominated for the $100.000 Cleantech 2007 award from the Danish venture company, Vaekstfonden, together with three other companies out of total 32 Danish Cleantech companies. The nominated companies were selected by an international jury composed by Mads Prebensen, Grundfos, Svend Licht, Novozymes, Even Bakke, BankInvest, Lydia Whyatt, Foursome and Christian Motzfeldt, Vaekstfonden. The winner will be announced at a reception in Vaekstfonden on the 14th November 2007.

Business Development Manager in H2 Logic Mikael Sloth comments on the nomination for the Cleantech 2007 award: "We are proud to be nominated for the Cleantech 2007 award. The nomination is a clear recognition of the efforts we are doing to commercialise fuel cell technology for transport and the business potential of our activities and knowledge".
